Manifesting My Desire

Ask, and it will be given you; seek, and you will find; knock, and it will be opened to you. For every one who asks receives, and he who seeks finds, and to him who knocks it will be opened. -Jesus
(Matt 7:7-8)

Based on this premise by Jesus Unity teaches that it is our divine birthright to manifest our hearts desire. There is a catch...

Manifesting My Desire

Our desire must be in alignment with God’s will. So what is God’s will?

The manifestation and demonstration of unconditional love in all the we do, say and are.

In other words DO NO HARM!

Love and you’ll be love, give and you be given to, for it’s your Fathers good pleasure to supply your every need.

Manifesting My Desire

It is the nature of God to give. Life is a constant, changing, moving, vibrational activity giving of itself so that it may manifest after its kind.

When we look around we see that Spirit does not deal in the activity of even exchange, but in the activity of greater giving. Abundance is the call of Spirit.

Manifesting My Desire

Jerry and Esther Hicks in their book, Ask and It Is Given, remind us: If your goal is to, finally, once and for all, achieve all that you desire, you will find yourself unable to ever fulfill that goal, for the expanding nature of the Universe defies that idea.

Once a desire has been realized another one is ready to take its place and the journey continues.

Manifesting My Desire

If someone is not receiving what they are asking for, it is not because there is a shortage of resources; it can only be that the person holding the desire is out of alignment with their request. There is no shortage. There is no lack. There is no competition for resources. There is only the allowing or the disallowing of that which you are asking for. –Jerry and Esther Hicks

Manifesting My Desire

What is your number one desire? What is it that you would like to see manifested in our life right now?

The truth about your desire is that it is already there and ready for you to manifest it!

As Unity minister, Mary Kupferle in her book, God Will See You Through, tells us: You have what it takes to create the life you want no matter what...

Manifesting My Desire

You have what it takes to be patient, steadfast; to see the direction in which you need to go; to move in faith by trusting the process and God; to be successful, happy, fulfilled; to feel the peace that passes understanding; to live courageously, victoriously; to face any and all situations with an overcoming spirit of light and love.

You have what it takes because you are a child of God!

Manifesting My Desire

When your desire is for the highest and best for all concerned miracles happen.

When you align yourself with Spirit's call of unconditional love and acceptance the Universe conspires to help you.

No one can take your good from you, expect you through our own thoughts and actions.

The greatest gift you can give yourself is the gift of happiness and that happiness is not dependent upon others.

Manifesting My Desire

When you feel pulled by negative emotions, stop! Breathe! Reaffirm your connection to God!

If you find that you're judging and rethinking everything based on what you "see" going on in the physical world around, stop! Breathe! Reaffirm your connection to God!

There is no lack or no competition competing for your desire. Only your mistrust in the process.

Manifesting My Desire

Have faith in what you do. After it is done do not condemn yourself. We are all seeking happiness, contentment, and we know by experience that we are happy when we are in tune with our environment. --Charles R. Fillmore, Co-founder of Unity

The root meaning of desire comes from the phrase de sidere "from the stars," from sidus (gen. sideris) "heavenly body, star, constellation"
