God’s Creed

*This is my commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you.
–Jesus*

God’s Creed

Through the Heart we may come to know the Love of God; through the Heart we may become the Love of God. –Gandhi

God’s Creed

The Buddha-style of love: impartial to all, free from excessive attachment or false hope and expectation; accepting, tolerant, and forgiving.

God’s Creed

Divine love is the great harmonizing principle known to man. It is our power to bind and join in harmony all aspects of our physical and spiritual selves.

God’s Creed

Divine love is an inner quality that sees good everywhere and in everybody. It insists that all is good...and will bring your own to you, adjust all misunderstandings, and make your life and affairs healthy, happy, harmonious, and free. It is the fulfillment of the law. – Charles Fillmore, Co-founder of Unity.

God's Creed

Love is...	Lust is...
Lasting	Lacking
Observant	Unrealistic
Viable	Short-lived
Empowering	Tarnished

God's Creed

God Creed is:
Divine love in action that shows up in our lives by actively allowing each individual the right to be their own person.

God's Creed

God Creed is:
Accepting each person without injecting our demands that they change for us. When change is demanded it sends the message that "Something is wrong with you."

God's Creed

God Creed is:
An invitation that says, "You are loved just the way you are."
And we manifest this invitation in our lives using four simple activities.

God's Creed

By allowing love to be the emissary of God's Spirit that goes before you to prepare the way.
By allowing love to be the healing palm that soothes and quiets the troubled heart, mind, and body.

God's Creed

By allowing love to direct each individual to their highest and best.
By remembering to let love help you with forgiveness, for love sees no wrong.

God's Creed

Divine love is love without boundaries. It just is. It demands nothing and yet gives everything.

Ego love is like getting a rope burn. As the rope slips through our hands we grab on tighter only to get burned.

God's Creed

Love is like a butterfly, it goes where it pleases and it pleases wherever it goes. Author Unknown

The greatest happiness of life is the conviction that we are loved -- loved for ourselves, or rather, loved in spite of ourselves. –Victor Hugo
